

2014 Annual Report

A letter from the Executive Director

Over the past few years, I have had the pleasure of watching Dumas Wesley truly raise the bar for reaching people in need. Although the environment for nonprofit organizations remains a very challenging one, I have seen our volunteers, community leaders and staff members come together and show resilience, determination and a shared sense of purpose. While the obstacles have been many—namely a persistently tough fundraising climate -- what has shone through is the commitment to helping our community's poorest and most vulnerable take charge of their lives and thrive.

We've been serving this community for 111 years. We have a well-established reputation for quality service among our multi-generational client base. We serve hundreds of needy families every year. That is really special to us - our programs meet the whole family's needs. We want to continue to meet these needs for generations to come, but without your support our programs wouldn't be possible! And without our programs and services, the true cost of poverty and social apathy would be passed on to the community through greater demands for health care, welfare assistance, education, law enforcement and other systems.

As we move forward in 2015, our ongoing goal is to keep our overhead low while growing our programs and improving the lives of those we serve. We will continue to be good stewards of your dollars and continue our efforts to educate, empower and enrich our community. Thank you for believing in us and for doing your part in keeping our ministry alive and well.

Sincerely,
Kate Carver
Executive Director

Serving the community since 1903

History:

The Dumas Wesley Community Center (DWCC) is a neighborhood based non-profit founded in 1903, by the Women's Society of Christian Service (present day United Methodist Women). DWCC originally started its mission work by serving poor women and children working in the cotton mills of the Crichton community in Mobile, Alabama. Over the years the DWCC grew into a large community center offering after- school care, tutoring, food pantry, day programs and transportation for senior citizens, transitional housing for homeless women and children, and neighborhood outreach. Crichton is one of the most economically and socially disadvantaged populations in Mobile. Sixty-nine percent of the population served is considered low-income, 95 percent is minority and the average family income is less than $12,000 per year.

Mission:

The mission of the Dumas Wesley Community Center is to EDUCATE, EMPOWER and ENRICH our local community through collaborative programs of Christian service that provide for immediate human needs, strengthen family life, develop leadership and encourage personal responsibility.
