

Sybil Smith Family Village

Dumas Wesley Community Center's transitional housing program, Sybil Smith Family Village (SSFV), was founded to break the cycle of homelessness through supportive housing, case management, life skills, and behavior modification. Residents must be: homeless, 24 years of age or older, able to work or enroll in school, willing to live in a drug-and alcohol-free environment and participate in a case management plan.

2023 FAST FACTS

87% success rate among residents who completed the program and moved into permanent housing

"After being in an unhealthy relationship for nearly a decade, I gradually lost everything - my family, friends, my home. I even lost the one thing that meant everything to me - my beautiful girls. When I moved into Sybil Smith Family Village, I became someone I never thought I'd see again. I went from barely making ends meet to having a career with benefits. I've got good credit. I've rebuilt relationships, and I've finally been reunited with my kids! Without Sybil Smith Family Village, I'd be lost - they showed me that people still have compassion. Thank you for all you have done!"

We are so grateful this program exists because our needs are pretty extensive. I'm looking forward to gaining financial stability as well as many other great opportunities this program offers. We would be homeless if this great place didn't exist. Thank you so much.
